</table>
| AccidentCode    | Indicates that there was an accident related injury for which there may be liability. Only one code may be reported. If more than one code was reported, this is the code associated with the most recent date. If more than one code was reported on the same date, this is the lowest code.

01 Accident/Medical Coverage. Indicates accident-related injury for which there is medical payment coverage.
02 No Fault Insurance/Including Auto Accident/Other. State has applicable no-fault or liability laws (i.e., legal basis for settlement without admission or proof of guilt).
03 Accident/Tort Liability. Accident resulting from a third party's action that may involve a civil court action in an attempt to require payment by third party, other than no-fault liability.
04 Accident/Employment Related. Accident that relates to patient's employment.
05 Accident/No Medical or Liability Coverage. Code indicating accident related injury for which there is no medical payment or third-party liability coverage.
99 Accident occurred but code 01-03 is not known. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| AccidentAdmissionDays | Absolute number of days between AccidentDate and AdmissionDate. All accidents occurred before or on the date of admission. Numeric value (integer)
0 Accident occurred on the same date as admission. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PrincipalDiagnosis | The ICD-9-CM code describing the principal diagnosis (i.e., the condition chiefly responsible for the admission of the patient for care). The principal diagnosis should reflect the information contained in the patient’s medical record for the current stay. The principal diagnosis may be a V code. The V code can appear:
a. When a person who is not currently sick encounters the health services for some specific purpose, such as to act as a donor of an organ or tissue, to receive prophylactic vaccination, or to discuss a problem which is in itself not a disease or injury.
b. When some circumstance or problem is present which influences the person’s health status but is not in itself a current illness or injury. | There is an implied decimal after the 3rd position. |
